<tr>
<th>No. Of Vacancies</th>
<th>Practical Skill Test. (Qualifying in nature)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>UR - 01 EWS - 01</td>
<td>All candidates scoring minimum qualifying marks which is as under:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>UR: Minimum 55% marks</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>EWS: Minimum 50 % marks (for reserved categories) against posts reserved for respective category.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>(The Practical Skill Test is of qualifying nature and this will not have any weightage in preparation of final merit list.)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Note: In case, two or more candidates secure equal marks at cut-off stage in above mentioned exams, all such candidates will qualify for the next round.

Written Test and CPT:

The answer scripts of Written Test and Computer Proficiency Test shall be evaluated in respect of only those candidates who are declared qualified in the Practical Skill Test. The final merit list for selection shall be prepared on the basis of performance of the candidates in the Written Test and Computer Proficiency Test. However, final selection will be subject to candidates securing minimum qualifying marks in both Written Test and Computer Proficiency Test separately, which is as under:

i. 45% (for UR category)

ii. 40% (for reserved categories) against posts reserved for respective category.

However, the cut-off for reserved categories will be lowered by not more than 5% below the cut-off for UR category.

Tie-breaking Criteria:

In case the total marks obtained by two or more candidates in the written test and computer proficiency test are equal, the candidate securing more marks in written test shall be ranked higher in final Merit List.

Provided that, if the marks obtained by two or more such candidates in written test is also equal then the candidate securing higher marks in the practical skill test shall be ranked higher in the merit list.

Provided further that if the marks obtained by two or more such candidates in practical skill test is also equal then the candidate born earlier shall be ranked higher in the merit list.
